MDB Communications

Job Title: Account Executive, Account Manager

Position Location: Washington DC

Position Type: full-time

Position Reports to: EVP, Chief Brand Strategist

Position Description: MDB Communications (www.mdbcomm.com) seeks agency-savvy account managers to work on integrated marketing accounts spanning all media, from traditional to online advertising, and everything in between (including direct marketing). Must have excellent project management skills, demonstrated experience managing the creative development process, be extremely well-organized and very detail-oriented. We're independent in the best sense of the word, with impressive regional, national and global clients. And we're passionate about the ever-changing world of advertising. How about you?

If you have a 3-5 year track record of agency success (in-house agency experience okay), AND you think you have what it takes to succeed at MDB, we'd like to hear from you. Send your resume, cover letter, salary history and 2-3 business writing samples to jobs@mdbcomm.com with "account management" in the subject line. All inquiries will be held in confidence. No phone calls please. EOE
